PRICE TWO CENTS

FIRE DEPARTMENT TO HAVE AN AUTOMOBILE CHEMICAL

The Council Authorize Its Purchase--
City May Purchase Portsmouth
Bridge from Railroad--Salvation Army Gets Peabody School Building--Board of Health Bill Rushed Through.

The City Council at a meeting on Thursday evening, voted to purchase an automobile combination hose and chemical engine for the fire department and the purchasing price will not exceed $5,000. The Salvation Army got a five years' lease of the Peabody building on State street, and the Council rushed through a long, disputed bill of the Board of Health for the observation of immigrants. Mayor Badger will veto this bill as he has twice before already. The special bridge committee, were empowered to find out the price for which the highway portion of the Portsmouth Bridge could be purchased.

All of the Council were present with the exception of Waterhouse and Leary when the meeting was called.

A communication was received from the City Clerk of Franklin, stating that the City Council had endorsed the resolution passed by the Portsmouth City Council regarding the navy yard.

Mayor Badger explained that the Board of Public Works wished to have a conference with the Council in regard to work on the water works and street under consideration and a meeting was arranged to go over the estimates. He explained that the department heads had been slow about getting in their estimates for the

NOT TO DEPRIVE NAVAL PRISONERS FAMILY OF PAY

Allowance Will Be Given to Wife When it is Her Means of Support.

From the latest in naval circles it is reported that the navy department does not intend to deprive the family of an enlisted man of his earnings while he is under sentence in the service. This is shown from a recent case at Mare Island navy yard when a prisoner named Rice confined in the prison at that station was allowed his monthly payments in event of his making the same over to his wife.

Such cases in the future it is said will be determined on its merits and the money allotted to family in cases when it can be shown that the prisoner is the only support. This plan has been adopted by some civil prisons throughout the country and is a right move in the right direction.

MID DAY ALARM CALLS OUT THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Blaze is Confined to Boiler
House of Portsmouth Milling Co.

Shortly before 1 o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded from Box 9 at the corner of Deer and Vaughan streets for a fire at Portsmouth Milling company, at the corner of Green and New Vaughan streets.

The fire was discovered in the boiler house by Thurston Smart on his return from dinner and he lost no time in having an alarm rung in. The Combination Chemical and Steamers were soon on the scene and steamers playing on the boiler house. Assistant Engineer Akerman personally directing the fighting of the fire.

The flames worked up under the roof of the brick structure and caused considerable bother for the firemen, the all out signal not being sounded until 1:30 o'clock. When Fireman Berry left the boiler house at the noon hour everything was apparently all right and how the fire started is a mystery. Fortunately it was confined to the brick building for had it communicated with the mill and store houses close by a serious conflagration would have resulted.

TAFT REPUBLICANS HOLD AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Preliminary Gathering to Form a Taft Club--Plan to Go to Concord.

There was an enthusiastic gathering of Taft men at the Probate court room on Thursday evening, as a preliminary for the organization of a Taft club in this city. There were about forty prominent republicans present and plans were talked over to go to Concord to the big Taft meeting to be held there next week. It is probable that a special train will be chartered and a band may be taken along by the local delegation. Another meeting will be held at the same place next Monday when more definite plans will be made and an organization perfected.

PRESIDENT TAFT WILL NOT VISIT PORTSMOUTH

He Will Probably Come at a Later Date.

President Taft will not visit Portsmouth on March 19th, on the occasion of his visit to Concord, Manchester and Nashua. His itinerary as published in the Boston and State papers on Thursday included this city. Word was received here today that this was an error and that the President had not included this city in his trip. The message however, stated that he might find an opportunity to visit this city at a later date.

To decide the world's championship baseball contests. That is only natural. Connie knows that at present he has about the best team in captivity, and a longer series is always more favorable to the stronger team. The breaks of the game are often the cause of the downfall of the stronger ball club, but in the longer series the classier aggregation is bound to win out. And the longer series would allow the fans a better chance of taking in at least more money for the big split up.

Pittsburg baseball bugs are working overtime appointing a captain for the Pirates. For some time Tommy Leach and Hans Wagner have been even money favorites, but now the fans in the Smoky City are giving Mike Donlin a look for the position. It would be the source of great relief in Pittsburg to know just who will be Fred Clarke's field leader. Well, whoever it may be, it looks like a good bet that it will not be Donlin. Mike showed by his stunts in Boston just what he will try to do, if allowed to get away with his line of talk. He developed a grudge because Johnny Kling was appointed manager of the team in preference to himself. While Clarke is in strug with the Pittsburg fans, he will not give Donlin the chance to oust him from his place by putting Mike in charge of the team in the field.

NAVAL SURGEON TO MARRY CALIFORNIA GIRL

Robert E. Hoyt of this City to Marry on April 10.

The latest victim of cupid in the navy is Surgeon Robert E. Hoyt of this city now on duty on the receiving ship Franklin at the Norfolk navy yard. His marriage is announced to take place on April 10, at Oakland, California.

The bride to be is Miss Lucille Cook of that city. The wedding will be the culmination of a brief courtship, Miss Cook meeting Surgeon Hoyt only a few months ago after being transferred from Mare Island to the Southern yard.

Surgeon Hoyt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Coburn Hoyt of North west street and brother of Lieut. Roland Hoyt of the marine corps.

TO REPUBLICANS IN THIS VICINITY.

You are urgently invited to attend a meeting at Concord, Phoenix hall Tuesday, March 5, at 11 a. m., for the purpose of forming a Taft league to assist in the nomination and reelection of our President. This is a personal invitation to all Republicans interested in the reelection of President Taft.

E. P. STODDARD,
Member New Hampshire Republican
State Committee.

BITS OF SPORT

The St. Louis Browns have a Nelson and Hogan in their lineup. But they are not the Battler and One Round. The names, however, may help the team to show a little fighting spirit, something that has been woefully lacking during the past few seasons.

Curious the change which takes place in a ball player's ability during the winter. Firstbaseman "Babe" Dandridge of the Pacific Coast league was good enough last season to be picked up by an American league club for this year, yet now he has been sold to Chattanooga, which is in a class below the Pacific coast organization.

"The American league race this year will be a six cornered fight," says Hughie Jennings of Detroit. He thinks that Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston, New York Chicago and Cleveland will be in the fight. Well, his guess is likely to be a good one as no one would dare to claim that Washington or St. Louis had a chance to get a look in for the pennant.

Bobby Wallace the manager of the St. Louis Americans, must have decided that his team is sure to finish last in the league. The Browns will not go south, but will do their spring training on their own grounds. Well, that's a good way to keep down expenses of signing players and paying them salaries.

Bob Fitzsimmons is grooming a white horse and it is none other than his 16 year old son, Bob Jr. The lad is six feet tall and weighs 150 pounds. He is getting daily instructions from his famous father at their farm in Dunell, N. J. Fitz is enthusiastic about his son's prospects and pronounces him the real hope of the white race. This sounds like the real goods for sure. By the time the lad is old enough to contest for championship honors, however, Jack Johnson will doubtless be a has been.

Owen Moran the clever English boxer is in a sad plight. The good boys in the game won't take a chance with him and the second raters who are willing to do not catch the eyes of the promoters as having sufficient ability to mix it with the little Briton before Moran lost to A. Welgast he was a championship possibility and he could pick out the man he wished to fight, but now he is looked upon as sort of a has been, and the glove wielders with the reputations snub him outrageously.

Connie Mack the manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, favors a series of nine games instead of seven

What Is Happening in the Harbor Town

Mr. and Mrs. Leonidas H. Sawyer left on Thursday for a fortnight's visit to relatives in Fall River, Mass.

Improving the excellent sledding, lumber was being hauled on Thursday for the house to be erected by George A. Kimball on Peppergill road.

Enter March, and with considerable of the proverbial lion in his make-up too. But at this time of year our courage is pretty good and we have a serene feeling that the March lion is only a stuffed quadruped at best. Old Sol can be counted on to soon meet off his make believe mane and tail, and by July it's a chance if there's so much as a grease spot left of the beast.

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

Why He Liked Panama.

Dick Wintersmith was a crony of John G. Carlisle in Washington, and when President Cleveland made Carlisle secretary of the treasury Dick promptly asked his friend for a job. Dick wanted to go to Alaska.

Carlisle said he would look into the matter and a day or two later sent Dick a present of a fine cane. It was a pretty cane, and it had a crook on it.

A few days later Wintersmith called on Secretary Carlisle again. "John," he said, "that is a fine cane you sent me,

"Why do you want to go down there?" asked Mr. Carlisle.

"I'll lose it sure. I can hook it over the railing of a bar, and I'll sure forget it some day."

"That's so," Carlisle replied, "and the way to keep that cane is to stop drinking."

Wintersmith went away, but in a few days he returned again and said to Carlisle: "John, I have changed my mind. I want to be a consul in Panama."

"Why do you want to go down there?"

"Well," said Wintersmith, "I've found out that down there you sit at a table when you take a drink, and I can put that cane on the table where I can see it all the time and I won't lose it. Alaska is different."

Carlisle gave him the job.

A NEWSPAPER MAN'S ECONOMY

How an Ohio Editor Saved Money on Room Rent.

Joe Carretton, editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star, Brother Charlie Taft's junior, was in Washington recently adding his voice to the howl that is going up over the prices the Baltimore hotels are going to charge during the Democratic national convention.

"Mebbe some of the wise ones will work the merry little scheme I resorted to in St. Louis at the last national convention there," said Carretton. "I walked up to one of the hotels, asked for a room without bath and was quoted a rate of $21 for the night. Just for the one night, you understand, $21 for the privilege of sleeping in one small room for, let us say, eight hours. Then I happened to think of a Turkish bath sign I'd seen down the street. I went down there, had a good rub and went to sleep peacefully on a comfortable cot without leaving any call. In the morning I paid a dollar for my bath, gave the man a quarter tip and went on my way rejoicing, being just $19.75 to the good."

Recovered.

Dr. Paul Burnmaster, president of the Chicago Anti-gambling league, was discussing his suit for $4,000 against a noted speculator.

"Speculators of this type," said Dr. Burnmaster, "are so wedded to gambling that they see no harm in the practice. They deem their pernicious doings to be work—work helpful to the community, like baking bread or building houses. In their blindness to their shortcomings they remind me of Billings."

"Billings, snowed up by a blizzard in a country town, said reproachfully to the one waiter in the place's restaurant:

"Look here, waiter, I've just found this suspicious button in my soup."

"The waiter hurried forward."

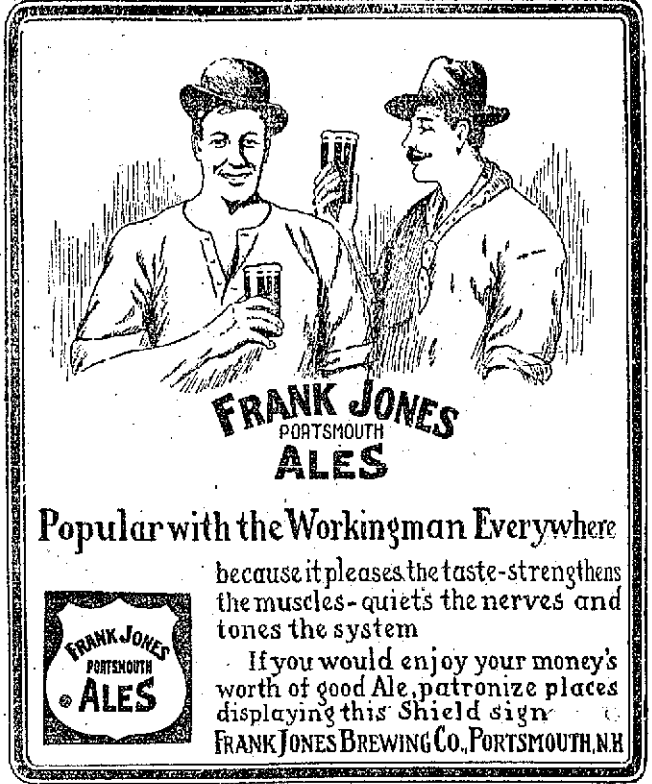

"Oh, thank you sir," he said, "I couldn't imagine what had become of it."

Names and Nationalities.

"Victor Herbert is the great-grandson of a lover, the Irish author," said ex-Congressman J. Van Vechten Olcott of New York the other day.

"How do I know it? Why, he and I belong to the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. Am I a member of that Erin organization? Why, I certainly am. You wouldn't guess it from my name, but my grandfather was an Irishman."

"Well," commented Congressman Murray, "I wouldn't be surprised now to hear that Bill Sulzer is an Italian."

FEDERAL INVESTIGATORS AT WORK

Will Give Lawrence Scale of Wages an Inspection—Conditions of Labor Also Under Fire.

Lawrence, Feb. 29.—Commissioner of Labor C. P. Neill accompanied by Special Agent F. C. Graxton of the Federal Department of Labor, arrived in the city shortly before noon. They went to a hotel where Immigration Agents Gordon of Haverhill and Hudson of St. Johnsbury, Vt., soon after.

A copy of such extracts from said section as relates thereto will be found at the City Hall.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

J. W. Harrett, Superintendent

City of Portsmouth, N. H.,

March 1st, 1912.

went into conference with them.

Agent Gordon has been in the city off and on since the early days of the strike investigating certain immigration features. Agent Hudson came yesterday but it is understood that he is not here in a strictly official capacity.

Commissioner Neill refused absolutely to state the purpose of his visit and he forestalled possible "interviews" by saying that, if any appeared, they could be accepted as fraud. He said that he expected to be here two or three days.

The wages paid to workers and the conditions under which operatives are conducted in Lawrence mills are understood to be the principal subjects of investigation by Commissioner Neill.

MORE OPERATIVES IN MILLS.

Claim of Agents Seems Well Founded—Less Aggression on the Part of Strike Pickets.

Lawrence, Feb. 29.—Not an arrest, not even a complaint on account of the strike, was reported by the Police Department this morning. This is the unusual state of affairs that obtains here this morning.

The mills report gains and judging by the crowd on the street between 6 and 640, when the operatives were going to work, the claim of the mill-agents was well founded.

There seemed to be fewer pickets, both of men and women, out and they were not very aggressive.

Nothing definite has yet been decided as to the number of children that will be taken to Washington or when they will start. The children's committee is working on the proposition and hopes to be able to make an announcement some time today in connection with this matter.

Prior to the departure of the 7.11 train for Boston a crowd of about 50 persons assembled at the railroad station, in the belief that a party of children was to be sent away, but upon learning that plans of the strikers to transport the youngsters today had been changed they readily dispersed.

Mayor Scanlon and Alderman M. S. O'Brien went to Boston again today to confer with mill owners, presumably the same ones they met yesterday. The regular Thursday meeting of the City Council was, therefore, postponed.

Col. Sweetser was promptly on hand and ready to reply in person to the resolution adopted by the Aldermen on Monday, with references to "sacred and social functions alleged to have been conducted in the mills where the militiamen are quartered."

The colonel, it is understood, does not think the action taken by the council was justified, because, it is claimed, that there were not so many dances as one would be led to believe there had been by the wording of the resolution. He had permitted some forces of entertainment for the men, so as to keep them off the streets and interrupt the monotony of their close confinement to duty. He will probably call again tomorrow.

Col. Sweetser said he did not know who was likely to succeed him in command of the troops here. He expected to be relieved some time in the week and he permitted to return to his home and business, to relieve a duty which he has been able to give attention for nearly two months now.

APPEARS TO BE BLOCKED.

The entrance of the Grand Trunk railroad into Boston appears to be blocked, at least for the present. Whether the obstacle will ever be removed is a difficult question to answer.

The general railroad law requires that that the petitioner for a railroad charter shall file with the legislature a map of the route, giving actual descriptions of the country traversed, with the grades.

The grand Trunk does not file a map—does not give any word of intention to file a map. It asks the state to make an "exception" to the law. The reason given is that if the road were required to comply with this statute it never would build, as upon the filing of the plans prices of property necessary to take for the route would become prohibitive.

There is no gainsaying such a result under these conditions. There is likewise no possible ground for overlooking ignoring or making exceptions to the statute on the part of the General Court.

We recognize the interest of the business community in the plan that the Grand Trunk should come to this city, bringing with it increase of traffic and competitive conditions in transportation. We recognize the readiness of the port directors to help the Canadian road to an adequate terminal. These are all substantial proofs of hope for trade expansion.

But we are sure these friends and advocates of the petitioning railroad will advise that the way to secure an entrance is to adopt the recognized method proscribed by law. It proves on examination to have been devised skillfully to prevent any other trunk line crossing the state, there is all the more reason for correcting it or adjusting it to conditions.

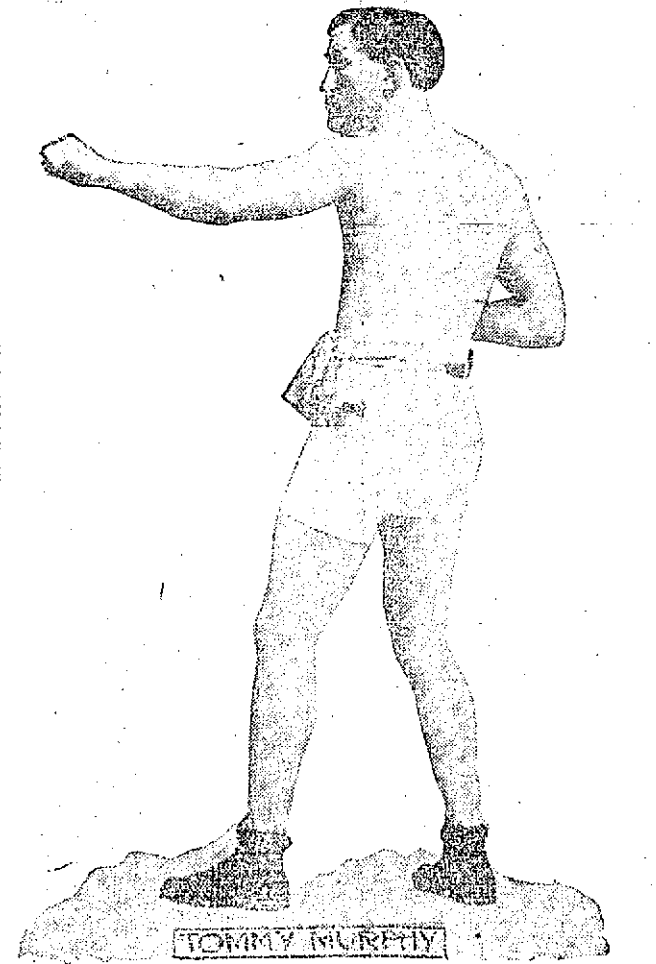

But it will not do mean-time to try to jump the bars.

WASHINGTON GREATLY STIRRED OVER STRIKE CONDITIONS

Woolen Company Will Be Investigated--Lawrence Police Are In Bad--Strikers to Get Hearing

Washington, Feb. 29.—Washington Rules Committee Saturday morning is getting ready to receive the strike is being considered by the committee. In all likelihood any and all arrive tomorrow or early Saturday, evidence tending to show in what order to appear before the House way Federal interference can be Rules Committee at the hearing on called for will be admitted. Representative Berger resolution. The local committee Henry, chairman of the branch of the Socialist party has committee, told a newspaper reporter Pythian Temple for a large committee this morning that his idea protest meeting Saturday night at would be to ascertain every possible which it is expected Representative fact bearing on the interstate relations Berger will speak as well as some of the American Woolen Company from Lawrence. Although the committee is desirous of going into the word has not yet been received will take up the alleged violation here, Washington Socialists and labor sympathizers are holding them- selves ready to house and feed the delegation from New England. Not in a long time has the national capital been stirred as it is stirred today. The hearing of the Lawrence situation on questions now before Congress is so direct and immediate that it has made legislators pause. Schedule K, already conceded "indefensible," can excite less sympathy than ever before; industrial matters have been brought to the front and the ever-present matter of Federal and States rights is being discussed everywhere.

At a big meeting at the People's Church last night resolutions were adopted protesting against the state of affairs at Lawrence and urging municipality, State and nation to prevent "such outrages for the protection not simply of property and dividends, but of labor, of commerce, humanity and of the self-respect of the American people." These resolutions, signed by Dr. Thomas E. Will, Harvard '90, formerly fellow in political economy at Cambridge, read in part as follows: "Whereas the acts of the authorities point to the existence, almost under the shadow of the Cradle of Liberty, of a condition suggesting darkest Russia with its Cossack and knout, and disgraceful not simply to the city of Lawrence and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, but to the nation itself, which so long has stood as a refuge for the oppressed of all lands, and whereas such acts tend directly to incite violence and to the precipitation of a revolution of force," therefore the People's Church registers its most emphatic and unanimous protest.

Exactly what kind of testimony will be allowed when the Lawrence strikers appear before the House the hearings and into the determination of what action Congress shall take. It is suggested here today that the Democrats may decide to begin an investigation of the American Woolen Company, which will be as thorough and as exhaustive as the undertaken by the Stanley Steel Committee or the Hardwick Sugar Committee. It is thought that such an investigation will help the passage of the revised schedule K to be reported to the House within a week or two, it is likely that an extended inquiry will follow.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE ACTS.

Interesting Program at Music Hall for Remainder of Week.

The vaudeville acts at Music hall Thursday evening comprised Le Boeuf Brothers, novelty entertainers, who did a variety of novelty dancing stunts and the Prince Masculline and company, in a novelty act that kept the audience laughing from start to finish. Prince Masculline did some sleight of hand feats unassisted and introduced some comical situations with the aid of his assistant that were decidedly funny.

The pictures were the same as shown Wednesday evening and are changed today.

CANNIBALISM IN PERSIA

Follows Russia's Rule in That Country.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Stirring allegations of cannibalism among starving Persians are contained in letters from Teheran to the Persian-American Educational Society here, from Dr. Susan L. Moody, formerly of Chicago.

She declares fathers are eating their children and children are eating each other in Northwestern Persia, in the vicinity of Hamadan, where famine, has followed the sacking of 25 towns and villages by the Red troops of Salard-Dowleh, brother of the deposed Shah. Forty thousand people are starving, it is declared.

Salard-Dowleh, who led the Red troops, has been placed in official position as Governor at Tabriz in the Russian sphere of influence in Northwestern Persia.

HOW SALT IS MADE-- LECTURE AT Y. M. C. A.

There was the usual large attendance at the Business Men's Supper at the Y. M. C. A. and after the menu had been disposed of Mr. H. P. Luedge, the New England Manager of the Worcester Salt company, was introduced and he delivered a very instructive and interesting lecture on "How Salt is Made." He went into the early periods and then showed the processes that the salt passes through from the first stage to the last. The lecture was illustrated with a large number of excellent views.

The speaker for next week will be Prof. G. A. Wilkes of Dartmouth College who will talk on "Equal Suffrage."

GAS, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION GOES

Another Victory FOR PURE FOOD

Makes Your Disordered Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes. Saccharine is Prohibited in Food Manufacturing.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach. If you will take a little Diapopsin occasionally, your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Bloating, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Diapopsin from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapopsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Papo's Diapopsin from your druggist and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can surely get relief within five minutes.

Captain Robert Scott and Two Views of the Terra Nova, In Which He Made Antarctic Trip.

Photos by American Press Association.

Captain Robert Scott of the British royal navy, who set out from London on June 1, 1910, in the Terra Nova for an expedition into the antarctic, may have found the south pole. According to his schedule, he should have reached there before this time if successful, and some word from him is expected almost any day now. Great interest also attaches to the expedition headed by Captain Roald Amundsen, the noted Norwegian explorer, who set out on a similar mission some months before Scott started.

FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1912.

The residents of Portsmouth will give President Taft a hearty welcome on the occasion of his visit to this city on March 19th.

The New Bedford Standard asks this question: "Would the removal of the tariff duties from sugar surely send the price downward? Perhaps. But there is no tariff duty on coffee, and the price goes up."

Wages in the United States are $2.30 for every $1 in England. The slash and drive tariff bills of the last Congress would have reduced New England wages to the level of Old England.

"If the Democratic tariff bill had been signed as it was written, we could not have run our mills at a profit if every one of our employees had worked for nothing," is what Frank Metcalf of the Farr Alpaca Co. is reported to have said to Robert Luce.

Fortunate indeed, is this city in regard to fires. While our neighboring cities of Newburyport and Dover have had several fires since the advent of the new year, two months have passed by without a bell alarm being sounded in this city. Let's hope that it will continue.

It is stated that the president of one of the New England's largest woolen mills recently confided to be a personal friend that there would be no revision of Schedule K at this session of Congress and that he knew positively that the Democratic leaders in the House were in agreement to this point. This textile authority understands that the House leaders realize that to force a revision at this time upon lines which they wish to follow would be to incur the certain veto of President Taft who will insist that scientific revision along the lines of the findings of the tariff board be pursued. The Democrats will use the wool schedule as a horrible example before the country of the impossibility of getting any adequate tariff reform for the public so long as progress is blocked by a Republican President and an impasse Senate.

The Boston Globe suggests that this is a good time for people to consider the advantages of a small garden the coming Summer. Householders who note their grocery bills with growing concern can doubtless cut down a good deal on expenses by planting gardens of potatoes, beans, peas, corn, squash, beets, onions, turnips, cucumbers, lettuce, radishes, etc. Potatoes, corn, beets and onions require more or less attention but the other vegetables will thrive with a surprisingly small amount of care. Nearly everybody who lives in the suburbs or who occupies a cottage in the Summer can find available ground for at least small garden. The work is healthful and the results are pretty sure to be gratifying.

President Charles E. Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad at a hearing held in New York before the public service commission on communication rates said: "I have never been able to find out exactly what commuters want. They apparently want to ride free with a chrono thrown in, while others are content to establish ed fare. I have always said 'that if I could meet representatives of the commuters and talk over situation with them, the matter could be explained. So far, I have had a chance to talk only with land speculators. I can better afford to take a commuter by the New York, Westchester and Boston and give him a subway ticket than over the present lines to the Grand Central. The New York, Westchester and Boston will be ready in 60 days." Speaking of electrification accomplished by the New Haven, Mellen said: "We ought to have a bouquets and not so many cabbages."

Theodore Roosevelt has been making a lot of noise about seven governors of the Republican faith who wished him to be a candidate for President. It appears that there are nine Republican governors for President Taft and three more are claimed. On every hand the President seems to be leading his opponent for the Republican nomination. — Newburyport Herald.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

Mr. La Follette's name will go before the convention, but several gentlemen who were once relied on for lusty cheers will be otherwise engaged at the moment.

In discussing the word "neurotics" Mr. Taft might go further and explain whether we are to place the accent on the first or the second syllable.

All that is needed to make the diagram a complete crime extirpator is a moving picture attachment to show precisely who did the talking.

The Schiff incident in New York calls renewed attention to the aphorism that no man is a hero to his valet.

There are absolutely no cheers from Columbia over the idea of another term for Mr. Roosevelt.

Solicitor McCabe of the department of agriculture seems to be the storm center in all the rumpuses that occur under Secretary Wilson's jurisdiction. Better begin to move out.

The Teddy bears are no longer popular. It's questionable if Teddy himself is as close to the hearts of the people as a part of the newspapers and many ambitious politicians insist that he is.

Bryan declares that it will be suicidal to nominate Governor Harmon. The Democrats have suicided so often it is doubtful if such a threat as that will have much effect at this late date.

Talk about trust magnates. They are not a circumstance to the big powers. England and Germany are going to take the East African possessions of Portugal and divide them between themselves.

Woodrow Wilson may yet be able to dig up a college yell that will put Champ Clark's "houn' dog" song out of business as a political argument.

A great many citizens will hesitate to favor a readjustment any more uncertain than it is at present.

After a glance at China's record it seems unreasonable or the Manchus to think of demanding another official term.

This is the year that is confidently expected to bring the base ball pennant to the banks of the Potomac.

A society for the prevention of cruelty to children would have a difficult task in countries that produce boy emperors.

Everybody knows that the man who is always boasting about what a confirmed woman-hater he is, is only whistling to keep his courage up.

It is a mistake to think that society women don't have to work. Didn't you ever hear one of them say "I declare I am so tired I feel as if I couldn't go another step."

A word from the wise is not sufficient, as a rule.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

The Tariff and Prices. The public demand for revision of the tariff springs from a belief, the result of many years of false political teaching, that revision will greatly reduce the prices of commodities in this country and so exempt a powerful influence on the cost of living. Few ever realize that whether reduction of duties will or will not appear, the tariff will reduce prices, for this is the vital question.

Would transference to the free list reduce the retail price of shoes, flour,

KANSAS MAN WILL SPEAK AT CONCORD

Congressman Campbell the Orator for Taft Meeting at Concord.

Concord, Feb. 28.—Plans for the state wide Taft meeting at Concord for Tuesday next, have taken on a degree of fruitfulness and have evoked such hearty enthusiasm that there is no doubt that it will be one of the most notable meetings of the kind ever held in New Hampshire.

The speaker of the evening will be Congressman Philip P. Campbell of Kansas, a young man whose intimacy with Taft administration and whose knowledge of national conditions are such that his choice has been without question a most proper one. Congressman Campbell is one of the leading speakers of the house and one of lower body's most convincing orators.

The meeting will be held at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of next Tuesday, in Phenix hall, this city. That the interest in behalf of President Taft is state wide is borne out by the numberless acceptances of the opportunity to be present, and special trains will be run.

Taft supporters will organize into a working body that will emphasize in no uncertain manner the sentiment of New Hampshire notwithstanding any erroneous ideas that may have crept beyond the border through the ill-timed action of a few men.

The organization in support of the Taft administration will be of state wide significance, and unalterably opposed to any suggestion of a third term for Roosevelt, or anybody else. The enthusiasm of Mr. Taft's supporters is not confined to any individual or class, but appears to permeate all classes. The meeting at Concord, on Tuesday next, will emphatically represent the sentiment of New Hampshire and leave no doubt existing as to how old Granite stands with regard to President Taft.

butler, eggs, corn, lard, shirts, sheets, potatoes, milk or any one of a score of other commodities of common and everyday consumption? If so, to what extent in the various cases? Would railroad rates, freight rates or street car fares be less if steel rails were on the free list? Would rents be reduced if structural steel, lumber and bricks were on that list?

One of the greatest needs of the country today is widespread education in the elementary principles of the operation and influence of the tariff on prices. For years we have been bombarded with political assertions that the tariff is the controlling factor in commodity prices in this country. Many have heard the various rations for so long a time or so frequently that they believe them, accept them as facts of daily experience and never stop to question their accuracy. That some prices would be influenced by change in the tariff there can be no doubt, but very few of the wares purchased constantly by the great mass of consumers would be perceptibly affected by any change at all likely to be made. That assertion can be supported and proved, it should be kept in mind throughout the political hullabaloo with which the country is soon to be once more afflicted.—New York Sun.

As It Sounded to Him.

A teacher in Kansas City, Kan., was having her class quote the Twenty-third Psalm. When the last verse was reached, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life," etc., a little boy near by was heard to say: "Surely good Mr. Murphy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

Name Saved Him.

A man brought before the court in Biddeford, Me., on a charge of vagrancy, when asked by the judge to give his name, answered, "David Gohome." The judge contracted his brows. "Your last name again?" he asked. "Gohome," was the reply. "All right, go ahead," said the judge, "that's a new one on me."

Boy's Bright Idea.

While teaching a class in the second grade, I once asked a little boy to tell what he could about the appearance of an Indian. After reciting at some length, he finished with the following statement: "He shaves all the hair off his head except a little bit on top, which is called 'the Happy Hunting Ground.'"

Money Concealed in Petticoat.

Mrs. Herman Nicolay of Norwich heard a rustling in one of her petticoats. She ripped it open and found seven certificates of deposit on different banks amounting to $3,700. The petticoat had been the property of the woman's mother-in-law.

Wise Business Move.

Serious Complication.

"I know how to sympathize with you, Mrs. Polhemus," said Mrs. Lapalme. "My left eye was affected once just as yours is and I had awful time with it. The doctor said the trouble was that the subconjunctive was granulated."

Nature Anticipates Art.

"The remains of that mastodon," said the scientist in the museum, "were found buried in an iceberg." "H'm," responded the man from Chicago, "that cold storage idea isn't so new after all."

Who Said We Couldn't!

Why can't we appreciate the more generous lines of the elderly woman's figure fully as much as the immature proportions of the girl? Why can't we see that one is really as beautiful as the other?—Edna K. Wooley.

EXETER LETTER

Many Interesting Items from the Academy Town.

Asa Beckman of Seabrook came up from there Thursday morning to hear the result of his trial, which was started Monday morning when he was arraigned on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, and also on a charge of assault and battery on his wife, and, greatly to his delight, was allowed to depart for his native realm by the sea, a free man, he giving them all the laugh, punctuated by a knowing wink.

His better half, Mrs. Asa, did not appear against him yesterday morning, they evidently having settled up the family breach. Thus the charge was dismissed, while on the liquor charge Judge Shute decided that there was no evidence, from the fact that so many were apparently not telling the truth, and if he took the word of one he should have to take that of another.

There was testimony of a receipt having been given for liquor alleged to have been bought, but this was brought into court with the allegation that it was for a pair of shoes purchased. As it was not proved that it was the receipt in question the matter was thrown out. Officer Chase, who has been active in his prosecutions there, told the court that he met Mrs. Beckman on her way from Salisbury to Seabrook with several jugs in her wagon, and upon the sight of the officer she whipped up her horse and set a wild pace through the country by sea. He testified that he got near enough to see that the wagon contained jugs. However, as this had no bearing on the case, the testimony had no weight. Mr. Beckman was represented by Edward D. Mayer of Exeter and the state by Stewart E. Rowe of Exeter.

Thursday evening at the town hall at Stratham the twentieth anniversary of the Winnicut grange was observed with informal exercises. The date of organization was March 20, 1892, but owing to circumstances the observance was held on this "Leap Year" day.

The program consisted of informal talks by Col. Richard M. Scammon, bank commissioner, on "Reminiscences," Charles W. Barker of Gilman grange of Exeter and a member of the executive committee of the state grange, and Dana W. Baker, also of Gilman grange.

Winnicut grange now contains eight charter members, they being George E. Gowen, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Piper, Fred L. Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Thompson, Mrs. Hannah A. Roberts and Sarah C. Scammon. Vocal selections were also rendered by Alvin H. Vroom and Mrs. Annie Leavitt.

The state president was present and discussed the affairs of the county. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Gilbert Thompson and Mrs. Paul Goodson.

A large class was initiated into the Aroostook lot of Haymakers at the meeting held Wednesday evening in Red Men's hall, including many from the towns of Newmarket and Hampton and also from Portsmouth. If you had lived in the last generation you could have been more or less indifferent about the quality and style of clothing you bought. But not now. If the boy is to have a fair chance let him wear XTRAGOOD clothes. These goods sold only by

NEARLY A MILLION MEN ARE OUT

English Coal Miners Go On Strike and Mines Closed Down.

London, Feb. 29.—Upwards of 7,000,000 coal miners had laid down their tools and gone on strike by 2 this afternoon, when the day shift in the mines ended. The army of striking colliers swelled hourly throughout the morning, when it became known that no settlement had been reached. Meetings were held by the Coal Miners' Federation and the Coal Owners' Association late in the morning, but they apparently only resulted in a reiteration of the refusal to budge from their respective positions, which they had taken up last night. Further meetings are announced for this afternoon, but little is expected to result from them. As a consequence the Cabinet, which met this morning, completed arrangements to hurry legislation which may prove necessary in order to compel a resumption of work.

A number of meetings of railroad employees passed resolutions pledging themselves to abstain from handling troop trains and coal produced by non-unionists.

The Premier and his colleagues, officials of the Board of Trade and other persons having influence with the coal owners and miners have been making this morning a final attempt to avert the disaster of a national coal strike in Great Britain. There is, however, only the faintest hope of success.

Before night of February's day, unless some unexpected change comes over the situation, over a million men and boys now employed in the mines will be idle and tens of thousands in other trades will be forced into a similar condition.

The delegates of the miners were approached early today by Sir George Asquith, with some of his colleagues of the Board of Trade and also several labor members of the House of Commons, with a view of finding some way out of the crisis. At the same time the coal owners gathered again at the Foreign Office, where they conferred with Premier Asquith and several members of the Cabinet.

Both sides are now blaming each other for the failure of the negotiations. The miners say that the coal owners did not show a conciliatory attitude, while the owners insist that the miners were determined to strike, no matter what terms were offered. It is understood that the Government has drafted a minimum wage bill with safeguards for the owners and is ready to rush it through Parliament in case of necessity.

It is stated this evening, with some show of authority, that there is some prospect of a break in the deadlock between the coal owners and the miners. Premier Asquith has submitted a new proposal to the miners, who, it is asserted, have now signified their willingness to negotiate on the question of safeguard, which the owners demand as a corollary to the establishment of a minimum wage.

Mr. Asquith is said to have given an assurance to the miners' delegates that a means would be found to compel the minority of the coal owners to fall into line with the majority on the question of the concession of a minimum wage.

DR. WILEY NOT TO RESIGN.

He Characterizes Rumor He Would as "Preposterous" and "Pure Fiction," Started By His Enemies.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of Agriculture, denied today that he has any intention of resigning from office. He characterized as "preposterous" and "pure fiction" the rumors to the effect that he probably would come out with a statement attacking Secretary Wilson and the administration.

Dr. Wiley declared that the rumors that he is about to resign undoubtedly came from enemies, who recently had attacked him in other ways.

Regarding the report that after resigning he would be a candidate for Vice President on the Democratic ticket, the doctor laughed and said: "I could not run on that ticket. I am a whole Democrat; that is, the others are only semi-Democrats. I believe in the equal rights of man, the right of women as well as of men to vote. Wherefore I am a whole Democrat."

TOWED BARGES FROM BOSTON.

The tug Piscataqua and M. Mitchell Davis of the Portsmouth Navigation company, arrived here late last night having in tow the Consolidation at the Foreign Office, where they conferred with Premier Asquith and several members of the Cabinet.

Both sides are now blaming each other for the failure of the negotia-

year and they had been notified to hurry up, and as soon as they were in the Finance committee would begin work on the appropriation bill.

School Building, Leased.

There was but one bid for the lease of the Peabody school building, and this was submitted by the Salvation Army, for a five years' lease at the rate of $10 a month, they to make all the repairs to the building. They submitted figures to show that they must expend $240.70 for repairs before they occupy the building.

Mayor Badger stated that a committee of prominent citizens had been to him and had advocated the granting of a lease to the Salvation Army on the ground that they did work of value to the city. On motion of Councilman McMahon, the bid was accepted and the City Solicitor authorized to make out the lease for five years, the rent to be payable monthly in advance.

Petitions.

The petitions of Henry Lytle for permission to encumber Daniel street for building purposes, P. D. Shea to open a drain on Charles street and the Portsmouth Tailoring company for right to hang a sign, were disposed of.

To Grant Hearings on Claims.

Councilman Herrick for the Committee on Claims reported that on the claim of Charles G. Fernald for damage to his property on Bennett street from a sewer, that the wanted further time. The City Solicitor stated that there was another such claim that of Mrs. Ellen Quinn of Washington street, before the court and on his suggestion the Committee on Claims will hear the counsel in both cases and report back to the Council.

To Put Wires Underground.

The Wire Inspector reported favorably on the petition of the Telephone company for right to put their wires on Middle street from Islington to Austin street underground in conduits, but refused the petition of the same company for a pole location on Court street on the ground that there was a line of poles there now.

To Purchase Auto Chemical.

A resolution was offered by Councilman Herrick, chairman of the Committee on Fire Department, appropriating the sum of $5,000 for the purchase of a combination automobile chemical and hose wagon, the appropriation to come out of the year's appropriation. This was passed without debate as the Council had already had considered it in a committee meeting.

To Borrow Money Until Taxes Come In.

A resolution offered by Councilman Herrick that the Mayor be authorized to borrow the sum of $20,000 in anticipation of taxes was passed.

Pay Old Bill.

Councilman Clark offered a resolution which started a lively debate and a threat from the Mayor to use his veto. It was headed "In relation to the Board of Health" and ordered the Mayor to pay the bills of Dr. Eastman of $270, Dr. Luce $65, and Dr. Johnston for $60, for the observation of immigrants, and it provided that all the observation hereafter should be done by the City Physician at a fee not to exceed $5 a person. This bill was authorized by the Board of Health to observe certain immigrants who came to this city from the cholera infected districts of Europe.

Councilman Parsons opposed the resolution on the ground that two Councils had refused to pay these bills and that last year Mayor Badger had vetoed such a bill and he had been sustained by the people. That if the bills that the two previous Councils had refused to pay had not been collectable than these bills were not. He did not think that these bills should be rushed through the Council at this time. He wanted a decision by the Council to establish a precedence and to settle the matter for all time.

Mayor Badger stated that he had not desired to be arbitrary in his manner, but this was a matter that should be settled by the Courts, and if the city was liable when they could be paid. A friendly suit would be inexpensive and it would settle the matter for all time. There were differences of opinion, a former City Solicitor rendered a decision that they were illegal and the present Solicitor said they were legal and that the city was liable.

City Solicitor Emery addressed the Council and stated that in his opinion the bills were legal and could be collected but was opposed to making citizens sue for their money, so that the court could pass on the matter. He thought that the Council had the power to pay the bills regardless.

Councilman Herrick, defended the bill and claimed that the work had been authorized by the Board of Health by the direction of the State Board.

Councilman Parsons thought it peculiar that if the law was so plain as set forth by the Solicitor, that the owners of these bills had not collected the bills by law before. Some of them had been hanging for the past three years. The Mayor had stood out on this matter and if the bills were not legal than the city should not pay them. He did not dispute that the work had been done and the bills were just, but questioned the liability of the city and favored a decision by the court.

Mayor Badger asked the Solicitor if the Council voted to pass an illegal bill, could a taxpayer get an injunction prohibiting the payment and the Solicitor said yes.

Mayor Badger said that he felt obliged to state that he would have vetoed the bill if passed.

Councilman Parsons motion to lay the bill on the table was defeated by a yeas and nays vote as follows: Yes—Parsons; No—Herrick, Rand, Clark, Holmes, McMahon and Smart.

On motion of Councilman Clark the resolution was passed by the same vote.

To Renew Licenses.

The usual resolution authorizing the City Clerk to renew all licenses of pool, bowling, gasoline, second-hand junk and pawn brokers, was passed. The City Clerk explained that all that was necessary to stop renewal was a protest and then it would go before the Council.

The report of the City Auditor for bills amounting to $2,839.90 were ordered paid and the pay rolls for March estimated at $9,026.63 were presented and the Mayor authorized to draw his warrant for the same.

May Purchase Portsmouth Bridge.

Councilman Holmes for the special committee on the bridge, reported that they had met the Selectmen of Kittery with Hon. Horace Mitchell and Mr. Mitchell showed a law in Maine where the County of York could take the Kittery end of the bridge by right of eminent domain. Mr. Holmes said that there was a law passed in 1874 whereby the city of Portsmouth and Rockingham County, collectively or separately could purchase from the bridge corporation of the railroad who now control it, the highway section of the bridge if a price could be agreed upon.

Solicitor Emery stated that the law was such a law, but that unlike the Maine law or similar laws in this state it did not give the city the right to lay out a highway across the bridge and assess the damages, but provided that it must be purchased from the railroad for a sum to be agreed upon by the road. The city could not purchase to railroad portion of the bridge, just the highway section.

On motion the Committee were authorized to confer with the Proprietors of the Portsmouth Bridge and see if they would fix a price to sell to the city.

Adjourned to March 14.

TIMELY HINTS FOR FARMERS

Some Dairy Mistakes.

The farmer who allows his dairy cows all to feed together at night, ought to know that some of them will get more than they require, while others will not secure enough to keep them even in normal flesh.

Since the cows use considerable salt during the summer months, when they have access to pasture, that is rich in succulence, how much greater is their need of it when their winter rations are so dry and unpalatable.

Leaving the cows' teats damp after milking will not only cause a decrease in the flow of milk, but is sure to cause chapped and cracked teats. What trouble this causes at milking time can be easily avoided by drying the teats thoroughly.

Failing to bed the cows well every night makes the manure more difficult to remove from the stalls and keeps the teats and udder so filthy that it is impossible to secure clean dairy products, while the animals are sure to consume a greater amount of feed to keep their bodies warm.—Iowa Homestead.

Value of Barley.

Answering a correspondent as to the comparative value of barley with oats and other grains, Wallace's Farmer says:

"It is a fact that on average corn belt land barley will return more feeding value per acre than either oats or spring wheat."

On the Herald's Dairyman farm we have grown barley for twelve years and for the last five years have grown no oats whatever. Any farmer who will try barley on average clay land we think will find that in actual dollars' worth the barley far exceeds the oats in return. One mistake very many farmers make is in using too much seed. Barley needs thin seeding so that it will stand well and have a free circulation of air. It responds well to frequent applications of phosphate.

The Incubator.

No one need hesitate to buy incubators or brooders because he has not before used them or seen them used. The manner of the use of these machines has been reduced to a simple A B C program if the user will just be guided by the easily followed instructions and rules for use. There is no contrivance for lightening labor and increasing profits that is more readily adaptable to instant use than the modern incubator and brooder. The cost of such an outfit is easily repaid by the increased profits in only a part of the season's work.—Kansas Farmer.

WHEN WORMS BOTHER PIGS

Symptoms and Treatment For Intestinal Parasites.

Worms infesting pigs may be either what are known as the round worms or thorn headed worms. These worms grow from five to twelve inches in length and unless they are quite numerous usually do but little harm to the pigs. But when they become numerous they will disturb the digestion and cause colicky pains, loss of appetite and make the hair appear dry and lifeless. Cases are known where they have worked through the walls of the intestines, reached some other organs of the body and caused death.

These worms do not develop in the intestinal tract, but when the eggs are discharged they are carried into streams and water holes and usually gain entrance to the stomach with the drinking water.

A remedy recommended for these worms is the fluid spigella semina given in one-half ounce doses every four hours until it causes purging. Another remedy is turpentine in doses of from fifteen to twenty drops three times a day for adult hogs and for smaller ones in proportion. This should be followed by castor oil or epsom salts.

Another remedy is to beat up two ounces of pumpkin seeds into pulp with sugar and give one dose. This should be followed in four hours with a brisk physic, castor oil or epsom salts.

Economy of Enslage.
When a farmer has his site filled with ensilage he not only avoids the painful operation of hauling in stacked fodder in bad weather, but he avoids all risk of death among his animals from cornstalk disease. No matter what causes this disease, it eats into the profits at a rapid rate and no man can afford to risk it who can possibly afford a silo on his place. The silo will pay for itself many times over in feeding operations and will absolutely insure you against loss from cornstalk disease or other forms of impaction and indigestion.

Beginner Should Go Slow.
If you are a beginner with sheep go slow until you have mastered the industry. As in poultrying or any other like business, experience is the sure, sure teacher.
